DJ Duane Powell

MEET DJ DUANE POWELL

Like the city itself, Chicago's house music legacy is always evolving, thanks to DJs like Duane Powell. And it's the type of music culture that could only be found in Chicago.

Chicago has long been a house music mecca. And as one of the city's most prominent DJs, Powell has unique insight into Chicago's house culture.

"Not only has house informed me musically, but culturally," says Powell. "I see a lot of unity in the community, I see a lot of embracing of all cultures."

Born and raised in Chicago, Powell grew up immersed in the city's soul music scene. Today, he's nationally known as a house music historian.

Here are a few of Powell's recommendations for must-visit landmarks and venues for house music fans in Chicago.

THE WAREHOUSE

If there's one location in Chicago that's synonymous with the origins of house, it's The Warehouse. This historic club is widely recognized as a key birthplace of house music.

"The Warehouse is legendary because of its innovation, the way they were able to experiment musically," says Powell.

The club's impact can be traced to its resident DJ Frankie Knuckles, known as the Godfather of House Music. The Warehouse was also a crucial haven for the city's Black, Latinx, and LGBTQ+ communities.

"It was one of the first places for that community to really gather and feel like they had a home," says Powell.

The building that once housed The Warehouse, at 206 S. Jefferson St., is a designated Chicago landmark.

CHICAGO HOUSE VENUES

Music fans visiting Chicago won't want to miss the opportunity to experience the city's one-of-a-kind house venues.

"There's a rhythm around the dance floor, there's a ceremony that's happening that's akin to church," says Powell.

Here are a few of Powell's top venues offering regular house music nights:

- SMART BAR
  A staple of the city's house music scene, this underground club features cutting-edge DJs from around the globe.
- FAMILY DEN
  This longtime bar in Calumet Heights is known for attracting a talent-packed lineup of DJs for regular house nights.
- THE GIANT PENNY WHISTLE
  Check out weekly house music nights featuring up-and-coming DJs at this Pilsen bar.
- ROOM 43
  In Bronzeville, this neighborhood favorite features an event space and hosts regular music nights.
- MASADA NIGHTCLUB
  This Logan Square club offers plenty of opportunities to dance, including their intimate house music sessions.

CHICAGO SOUNDS

Chicago doesn't just play music — it invents new sounds that change the game. From churches to street corners, recording studios to underground clubs, the city has birthed genres that have shaped music across the globe.

BY AMY BIZZARRI

House music was born in Chicago's underground clubs in the early '80s. Frankie Knuckles, the Godfather of House Music, transformed disco into a pulsing, soulful genre that still dominates dance floors globally.

Gospel found its modern voice in Chicago thanks to Thomas A. Dorsey, who fused spirituals with blues music. Pilgrim Baptist Church became the cradle of gospel choirs, launching legends like Mahalia Jackson.

Urban blues electrified the Delta tradition. In Chicago, Muddy Waters and Howlin' Wolf plugged in and kicked blues up a notch. Live blues music can be heard nightly in clubs across the city.

Modern jazz took root in the Bronzeville neighborhood, where Louis Armstrong and Sun Ra redefined improvisation. Today, you can catch live jazz performances all around Chicago.

Drill emerged from the South Side of Chicago in the early 2010s, blending raw lyricism with heavy beats. Artists like King Louie turned their local street stories into viral anthems, giving rise to a genre that now echoes worldwide.

Juke and its cousin Footwork evolved from a subgenre of house music in the late '90s. With quick beats and syncopated rhythms, DJs like RP Boo and DJ Rashad turned Chicago Park District dances into kinetic art.

ATTRACTIONS

Meet the world's most fascinating marine animals at the Shedd Aquarium. Explore peacefully with special Calm Waters events, a sensory-friendly app, and a quiet room designed for personal comfort. Staff are trained in inclusive practices, offering special experiences that include an animal encounter and a low-sensory animal spotlight with ASL interpretation.

Discover nature in bloom at Garfield Park Conservatory. Free sensory tours are ideal for gentle engagement. The Sensory Garden, with its winding paths, textured foliage, and accessible seating, supports personal exploration and hands-on learning in a relaxed environment designed for sensory ease.

At the United Center, high-energy events become more accessible thanks to sensory bags, noise-reducing tools, and a designated quiet room for breaks. Visitors can enjoy sports and concerts with flexible options, supported by trained staff who prioritize individualized support and a welcoming, adaptive experience.

MUSEUMS

The Griffin Museum of Science and Industry offers Low-Sensory Mornings with reduced noise, smaller crowds, and a sensory map to help plan a smooth visit. Visitors are allowed exclusive early access from 8:30 a.m. to 9:30 a.m., when exhibits feature modified lighting and sound. Tickets include museum entry for the rest of the day, with most museum experiences remaining in sensory-friendly mode until noon.

Chicago Children's Museum's Play for All initiative invites families and children with disabilities to experience inclusive, multisensory exhibits. The museum opens at 10 a.m. on select weekends for Play for All guests to enjoy an exclusive hour of play before opening to the public. The first 250 families who pre-register receive free admission.

At the Museum of Contemporary Art Chicago, Sensory-Friendly Mornings feature quiet galleries, dimmed lighting, and calm zones that promote thoughtful art exploration for visitors with sensory sensitivities, autism, PTSD, and other disabilities. A Chicago-based artist is on hand to lead a sensory-friendly art-making experience.

THEATRES

Chicago Children's Theatre brings stories to life with its Red Kite Adventures — sensory-driven experiences designed especially for kids (and adults) with autism. Performances include modifications to production elements such as lighting, sound, and volume. And audience members are welcome to take advantage of a quiet room.

Steppenwolf Theatre Company makes special adjustments for their sensory-friendly shows, including lowered lights and sound cues, the elimination of jarring effects, leaving some seats empty so guests can move about during performances, and a quiet area set up in the lobby for those who want to take a break.

Goodman Theatre's modified performances and trained staff cultivate a respectful environment that embraces guests of all sensory backgrounds. Special accommodations include sensory bags with noise-reducing headphones and fidgets, designated quiet spaces, and reduced stimuli such as lowered sound.

HOLIDAY CHEER

Join in Chicago's favorite fall and winter events that are sure to get you in the holiday spirit.

BY AMY BIZZARRI

Lightscape at Chicago Botanic Garden

Lincoln Park Zoo kicks off autumn with Fall Fest, a family-friendly extravaganza featuring pumpkin patches, harvest activities, and the ever-popular Spooky Zoo, where costumed kids are treated to themed exhibits and trick-or-treating among the animals.

For a spirited after-dark celebration, the Arts in the Dark evening parade melds artistic pageantry with spooky charm, marching down State Street in surreal style among dazzling lights, costumed dancers, and imaginative puppets.

The Haunted Halsted Halloween Parade turns Northalsted into a carnival of the bizarre and beautiful, where costume contests and floats create a nighttime celebration of frightful fun — with drag performers, music, and fabulous spectacles everywhere you look.

At the National Museum of Mexican Art, the festive Day of the Dead Xicágo honors ancestors with colorful altars, sugar skulls, storytelling, music, and food steeped in the traditions of Mexico.

The Chicago Botanic Garden in north suburban Glencoe glows eerily during the Night of 1,000 Jack-o'-Lanterns, when creatively carved gourds light up winding nature trails beneath the autumn stars, attracting families and fans of Halloween artistry.

As the calendar flips to November, the city truly begins to sparkle as the holiday season heads into full swing. The Chicago Thanksgiving Parade on State Street is a classic kickoff to the holidays, with giant character balloons, marching bands, and fanciful floats delighting thousands.

Next comes The Wintrust Magnificent Mile Lights Festival, where one million lights are lit in the glittering trees along The Mag Mile. Expect cheerful crowds, festive floats, energetic music, joyful performances, and plenty of holiday shopping.

ChristkindlmarketChicago brings German holiday traditions to downtown Daley Plaza. Check out the handmade gifts and shiny ornaments, sip warm mulled wine or hot chocolate from a souvenir mug, and snack on Bavarian treats like fresh-baked pretzels and gingerbread.

Chicago's largest indoor holiday bash, Winter WonderFest at Navy Pier beckons families with fun rides, ice skating, live music, and showstopping decor.

Millennium Park hosts some of Chicago's most beloved holiday traditions. The Lighting of the City of Chicago Christmas Tree elicits oohs and aahs from visitors, while the joyous Millennium Park Holiday Sing-Along brings harmonious voices together under the glowing lights.

The Griffin Museum of Science and Industry decks its halls for Christmas Around the World and Holidays of Light with a forest of decorated international trees, along with cultural displays and performances that celebrate global customs.

The DuSable Black History Museum and Education Center hosts a vibrant Kwanzaa Celebration, welcoming all with drumming, dancing, and storytelling rooted in African heritage.

Winterland at Gallagher Way turns Wrigleyville into a sparkling holiday destination at historic Wrigley Field. Ice skate beneath twinkling string lights, shop the Christkindlmarket for artisan-made gifts, warm up around crackling fire pits with seasonal sips, watch classic holiday movies, and share your wish list with Santa.

ZooLights at Lincoln Park Zoo transforms the grounds into a whimsical wonderland, where shimmering light displays dance and festive decorations bring enchantment to every corner. Grab a cup of cheer and look for snow leopards prowling in the twilight or red pandas nestled in their cozy branches.

In west suburban Brookfield, Holiday Magic at Brookfield Zoo Chicago offers a show-stopping combination of synchronized light shows and immersive experiences. Stroll past animatronic reindeer and brightly colored light displays, all while listening to seasonal music that fills the winter air. Along the route, keepers share fun facts about the zoo's animals.

The Chicago Botanic Garden In suburban Glencoe enchants with Lightscape, a mesmerizing display of stunning light sculptures that illuminate your way while strolling the snow-covered gardens.

The Menorah Lighting Celebration in the Loop's Daley Plaza invites everyone to honor Hanukkah with music, blessings, and a shared sense of community.

CHICAGO MAKERS & ARTISANS

From classic baked treats and handcrafted bicycles to swank hats with a celebrity following, meet six creative locals whose only-in-Chicago goods prove we're never done, never outdone. BY LISA SHAMES

Brown Sugar Bakery

BROWN SUGAR BAKERY

Nostalgic, Southern-style sweets are the specialty at James Beard Award-nominated Brown Sugar Bakery, located in the Chatham neighborhood. This charming spot is known for its traditional layer cakes that use cherished family recipes, including fan favorites luscious caramel, whimsical rainbow sherbet, and rich red velvet. Owner Stephanie Hart also takes pride in being the only Black woman-owned chocolate manufacturer in the U.S., producing a line of delicious handmade caramels and creams.

HERITAGE BICYCLES

With a love for the art of bicycle making, Heritage's small collection of two-wheeled wonders is handcrafted in Chicago under the watchful eye of founder Michael Salvatore. Heritage offers personalized service and full customization at its Lakeview (Heritage Bikes & Coffee) and Uptown (Heritage Outpost) locations. The company leans into its welcoming vibe by creating coffeehouse-like spaces serving its own branded coffee, becoming a hangout for latte lovers as well as cycling fans. Handy bike services like tune-ups and flat fixes are also available.

DEARBORN DENIM

Rob McMillan's family-owned and operated Dearborn Denim has been crafting their line of jeans in a Chicago factory since 2016. With an emphasis on durability and the use of local materials, Dearborn Denim jeans are made to last. The level of fine craftsmanship has earned Dearborn Denim a cult following among local fashionistas. Visit their retail location in the Andersonville neighborhood, where jeans in styles ranging from skinny high rise to straight leg are custom hemmed for the perfect fit.

JUSTICE OF THE PIES

Equal parts champion of the community and creator of epic baked goods, James Beard Award nominee Maya-Camille Broussard delivers on both fronts at her Avalon Park bakery. Her pies range from classic (Key lime, sweet potato) to innovative (lemon-basil, miso-honey chess). Start with one of her savory offerings — like the smoked gouda-and-spinach quiche or lemon chicken-and-leek pot pie — before moving on to the sweet stuff. When she's not baking, Broussard conducts cooking workshops for kids from underserved communities.

LAUDI VIDNI

In a world of trendy "it" bags, this appointment-only River North boutique — founded by friends and Harvard Business School grads Laura Kofoid and Grace Tsao-Wu — is all about celebrating the personal style of its clientele. Its name, after all, is "individual" spelled backward. Starting with quality cowhide leather from environmentally conscious tanneries, the bags are customizable, including color, trim, lining, and hardware. Stylish crossbody purses, totes, and backpacks are some of the bag options available for both men and women.

OPTIMO HATS

Even before stepping inside Optimo Hats in the Loop's historic Monadnock Building, you'll be mesmerized by the beautiful hats that appear to be floating in the window. Founded in 1996 by Graham Thompson, Optimo has become legendary worldwide for its elegant, trend-defying hats, earning fans like blues guitarist Buddy Guy and comedy superstar Bill Murray. The classic, Hollywood-style men's hats are produced in Optimo's Beverly neighborhood factory with old-world craftsmanship, right down to the vintage hatmaking equipment used to stitch each piece. Custom orders are welcome.

VISITING CHICAGO STARTS AT O'HARE AND MIDWAY INTERNATIONAL AIRPORTS

O'Hare International Airport

Conveniently situated in the center of the country, VISITING Chicago starts at our two first-class airports, whether arriving from the east, west, north, or south. Chicago likes things in twos: two Major League Baseball teams, two major daily newspapers, and two international airports! There is nowhere else on earth like Chicago. From the moment you arrive at Chicago O'Hare or Midway International Airports (O'Hare and Midway), you will be connected to the Second City which is second to none.

WORLD-CLASS CONNECTIVITY

O'Hare lies just 17 miles from downtown Chicago and is one of the most connected airport hubs in the country. O'Hare has eight total runways — the most of any commercial airport in the United States. A mere 10 miles from downtown, Midway is a premier point-to-point airport for leisure and business travel.

Connect with colleagues, family, and friends in Chicago. OAG, the leading data platform for the global travel industry, ranked O'Hare the #1 most connected airport in the U.S. and #7 worldwide in 2025. Chicago's airports are hubs to three of the four largest carriers in the United States — American Airlines, United Airlines, and Southwest Airlines. Four airlines offer dual services out of O'Hare and Midway: Delta Air Lines, Frontier Airlines, Southwest Airlines, and Volaris.

With more than 45 passenger airlines arriving in Chicago from more than 270 airports worldwide, it's no wonder Chicago was voted the Best Big City in the U.S. nine years in a row by the Condé Nast Traveler Readers' Choice Awards 2025.

THE O'HARE EXPERIENCE

This is an exciting time for Chicago's airports. Major investments have been made at O'Hare to provide passengers with an experience fit for the global gateway that it is.

TERMINAL 5 EXPANDED AND RENOVATED

At 350,000 square feet, the Terminal 5 extension at O'Hare boasts 10 new gates, expanded seating, new restrooms, and more amenities — from art installations to an interfaith room, and a mix of local and national restaurants and retail shops including Bar Siena, The Hampton Social, and Chick-fil-A. Large, bright windows offer airfield views, while open seating areas, modern furniture, and plentiful charging stations provide comfort and convenience. The expansion brings the total number of security checkpoint lanes to 13 and also improves immigration facilities.

AIRLINE LOUNGES

Whether arriving early at the airport or waiting for others to arrive in Chicago, travelers can work or relax in the various airline club lounges. Day passes can be purchased by nonmembers at most of the clubs. At O'Hare, the most recent lounges to open are the LOT Business Lounge and Air France Lounge in Terminal 5, which both feature areas for relaxation, work, and dining.

The United Club in Terminal 1 is nearly twice the size of the previous United Club it replaced near Gate C16. With available seating for 400, there is no shortage of space for lounge-goers to work at individual tables, one-person desks, couches, lounge chairs, and coworking-style desks. American Airlines' Admiral's Club in Terminal 3 will also receive a refresh as part of the Terminal 3 development project.

THE MIDWAY EXPERIENCE

At Chicago's Southwest Side airport, passengers are treated to a collection of Chicago favorites while enjoying an elevated travel experience, thanks to the Midway Modernization Program — the most significant capital program at Midway in nearly 20 years.

SHOP, DRINK & DINE

The redeveloped Central Market, located at the intersection of Concourses A and B, is home to a mix of new and existing brands including EVOLVE by Hudson, Connie's Pizza, and White Sox Bar & Grill. The airport now boasts nearly 70 concessions brands, and the expansion increased Midway's total concessions area, nearly doubling the amount of shopping and dining options.

THE CLUB MDW

For the first time in the airport's 97-year history, Midway offers a shared-use passenger lounge. The Club MDW opened in September 2024 and is conveniently located in the airport's Central Market at the intersection of Concourses A and B. It is available for all travelers regardless of airline and class of service, and it offers complimentary food and beverage service to all patrons in an inviting, relaxing environment. The lounge is accessible through Priority Pass, the world's largest airport lounge membership program.

ACCESSIBILITY

Chicago's airports are fully accessible to all passengers. In 2025, sensory maps, "point-of-view" videos, sensory bags, and social stories are among the newest resources designed to help neurodivergent travelers, specifically those with sensory sensitivities, feel more comfortable or prepare for their experience at Chicago's airports.

COMPANION PLUS RESTROOM

The Companion Plus Restroom at O'Hare is a first-of-its-kind amenity, providing a restroom, shower, and other ADA features for disabled passengers. It is located in Terminal 2 near security checkpoint 5 (Gate F3).

HIDDEN DISABILITIES SUNFLOWER PROGRAM

The Hidden Disabilities Sunflower program offers additional support to travelers with invisible disabilities, such as autism, post-traumatic stress disorder (PTSD), and hearing loss. Lanyards, bracelets, hats, and other sunflower items with a green background and a sunflower enable individuals to discreetly indicate that they have a nonvisible disability and may need additional assistance, understanding, or more time. Sunflower lanyards and basic information cards are available at all information desks at O'Hare and Midway.

MOTHER'S ROOMS AND LACTATION PODS

Eleven parent-friendly Mamava lactation pods are conveniently located at the airports to augment the Mother's Rooms already in place. The pods are freestanding spaces intentionally designed with easy-to-clean surfaces and app-enabled access for a comfortable and private option to breastfeed or pump.

VISUAL INTERPRETING THROUGH AIRA

Passengers who are blind or have low vision can receive assistance with the help of the Aira app, which is free for users inside both airports. The app connects users with a trained visual interpreter, who will provide assistance from information conveyed by surroundings either from a camera view or what is shared on a screen.

PASSENGER ASSISTANCE

Travelers Aid Chicago at O'Hare and Volunteer Information Services at Midway are both programs that provide resources and information to passengers traveling through the airports.

SERVICE ANIMAL RELIEF AREAS

Interior and exterior service animal relief areas (SARAs) are available at both airports for passenger convenience.
